Magnificence

By: Estrella Alfon

Brief Background of the Author:

Before I start with telling the story and stating my reaction, let me give give a little background of the author. Estrella Alfon was born in Cebu City around 1917. She joined a group named the Veronicans that is composed of writers including Francisco Arcellana and NVM Gonzales during college at the University of the Philippines. Due to her poor health condition, she wasn't able to finish her studies and received an Associate in Arts. She made a compilation of her stories titled "Magnificence and other stories" in 1960. 1979 and a year before her death, she handled the fiction part of the Philippine Writing Contest conducted by the University of the Philippines.

Summary

The "Magnificence" talks about the magnificence shown by the mother in the story. Let's start with the flashback first so the flow of the story could be understood easily. The mother and Vicente met in a neighborhood association meeting. After the meeting, Vicente told the mother that he is willing to tutor her two children (The boy is eight years old and the girl is seven years old) and his reasons were the smartness of the children and his vacant time during the evenings (for he was a bus conductor). Vicente promised the two children that he will be bringing two pencils for each of them. Vicente has what we call favoritism because he plans to give the girl more by buying her the biggest pencil he can find. But why give something like pencils? Pupils or kids were crazy over pencils and they always want to show it off. Two weeks later after his first tutor with the children, he brought along with him the pencils he promised. The next evening, Vicente was earlier than the usual time he goes there to tutor the children. After asking the boy to get a glass of water for him, he was left alone with the girl. A little while, the girl got frightened and got away from Vicente. As she got away, the mother came and saw what was about to happen. After telling the children to go to their room (and the children complying to what she said), she kept on slapping Vicente until he was brought to the door and he ran away to the shadows. The mother took the girl a bath before the girl slept. And that's where the story ended.

This time, the author combined language and point of view. The language was kind of confusing because the narrations include the dialogues of the characters and the point of view was no one in the story. In the past, this story is really unthinkable. But now, who wouldn't have taught that this kind of story could happen in our generation?
